Inspirational Support for Cancer Warriors

Geri Maroney shares her real-life story of how cancer changed her life for the better through reawakening and rebirth. As an Advocate for Hope and a Champion of Courage, Geri knows first-hand that healing the emotional wounds from a cancer diagnosis is as important as healing the physical wounds. Identifying and releasing negative emotions that are part of a cancer journey is critical to rejuvenating mind and spirit.

Ms. Maroney teaches audiences to release negative emotions like fear and anger, so they can be replaced with courage and self-confidence. Through her Release. Realign. Rediscover. Program, participants walk away with proven strategies they can immediately implement to strengthen self-love and rebuild trust, so they can create a life that brings them joy.

Geri's warm and engaging personality puts audiences at ease and lays the foundation for an inspirational exchange. She is a source of motivation and offers a mix of humor and thoughtfulness to help cancer warriors navigate the scary path ahead of them.

Session Highlights:

- Boost Resilience
- Increase Positive Outlook
- Strengthen Self Confidence
- Conquer Negative Thinking
- Enhance Gratitude

Target Audiences: Cancer Support Groups, Women's Groups, Corporate Motivational Events, Health & Wellness Events, Medical Conferences.

Review:

"Geri brought the audience to tears as she shared her early struggles with hearing the news of having breast cancer and the impacts it had on her and her family. Then, we cried again with happy tears as she fought her way through the fear and pain of surgery and recovery. Geri is a very compelling speaker with a wonderfully encouraging story to share."
